

Values And Goals

My View of my IT Supervisor Readiness Web Portfolio was created to help me build a vibrant, engaging professional online profile to showcase my leadership capacity, skills, and flexibility. I planned to emphasize the required skills, equipment, and principles that can be achieved with the help of computers and related software and that are essential in pursuing the profession of a Blockchain Developer in the future, where integrity and decentralization principles and secure transaction processing are core values (Kieu, 2022). In describing my experience of dealing with KPIs, motivating team members, and sustaining service level agreements and up-time of the systems, I was ready to handle large, distributed systems with mastery and ethical insight.
